Roberts Rules of Order

A group of people in a meeting room, with a man standing and pointing at a laptop screen while others look on. The scene is overlaid with a semi-transparent orange filter. On the left side of the image, there is a vertical bar with a grid of colored squares in shades of green, orange, red, and teal. Below this bar, there are several thin, curved blue lines.

Submitting Documents

- Committee Resolutions, adopted and signed by a majority of the committee
- Resolutions are referred to the Resolutions Committee for review and recommendation.
- Except for the Resolutions Committee, once the committee adjourns it has concluded business and may not reconvene.
- Resolutions submitted by a convention committee require a two-thirds (2/3) vote to adopt the resolution.

Amendments

Proper tracking is essential when amending the proposed amendment or resolution. The language that is currently written in the governing documents must be provided so all members who will vote to adopt the changes are clear to what language has been deleted or ~~additions~~added. Proposed changes to the Constitution will be reflected using the following tracked changes. Additional (new) language will be blue and underlined; and deleted language will be ~~red with strikeout~~.

During the Convention, the Constitutional Amendments Committee may amend the proposed amendments. The committee's changes will be ~~reflected in green~~highlighted with underline or ~~stricken~~strikeout language as indicated above.
